Sintesi

Titolo: Digital Designer

Descrizione:

Refresh Digital would like to hire a Digital Designer with excellent design skills and Flash production skills. Some basic knowledge of code is required (HTML, CSS, ActionScript), but this is not necessarily a design & code role. We are looking for a designer who understands the web exceptionally well and who can work with seriously talented coders and work on own initiative. Experience in developing concepts is a huge benefit. The role would also suit someone who is interested in developing as an Art Director. Skill and interest in other areas such as (but not limited to) animation, video or 3D would be welcomed. Refresh is a digital-led communications agency. We work on a wide range of projects, including campaign websites, display advertising, press advertising, corporate websites, a little TV, a fair amount of animation, and an increasing amount of video. Our growing client list includes well-known national and international brands.
